A novel and attractive feature of the Horse Show next Saturday will be the workhorse parade, which has been carried on most successfully at Boston and other Northern cities, but this is its first introduction in the South. It will be for the best team of horses or mules. No entrance fee will be charged, though ribbons will be given to the fiver sor the first three.

This class is put in to improve the four best teams, with a small purse to the drivers of the first three.

CLUB MEMBERS ENJOY CHASE.

Ride Over Fifteen Miles of Country to Round Up Fox.

Lynchburg, Va., May 11.—The chase of the Oak Ridge Hunt Club yesterday afternoon, in Amherst county proved to be an unusually enjoyable occasion for the fifteen members. The start was near the old Wingfield place. The chase for the first half mile was to the east. The Reynard then doubled back, almost to Amelon, and then again almost to the start, when the dogs first picked up the trail. The chase was about three hours, extending over about fifteen miles of country. The fox, when rounded up, fought hard for his life, sending some of the pack back to nurse the effect of his bites.

After the chase the carcass was used.
